

The Fountains on Ocean Boulevard in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Customer Project:

The Fountains, Multi-Family Residences

As the growth of high-density living expands across North America, the need to minimize interior noise pollution has never been greater. Like a pair of matched villas facing the sea, these twin 7-story buildings are home to only 61 residences—sharing the ocean views, and the rooftop pool and gym. The post-modern design is a welcome relief from typical South Florida style, and the quality of the details is evident. Supress Sound-Engineered Drywall was installed on all corridors and demising walls throughout the project.

Watch Supress Sound-Engineered Drywall in Action on A&E's "Flip This House"

Saturday, July 19th at 12 noon EST

Tackling one of the most exciting aspects of today's high-stakes real estate market—the transformation of an eyesore into a profit-making beauty—A&E's hour-long "docu-soap" follows the travails of real estate investors in New Haven, CT, Los Angeles, CA, San Antonio, TX, and Atlanta, GA—where each boasts a team of characters that buys homes, renovates them in record time, then flips them for a profit. It sounds simple, but sparks fly and tempers are high before the fixer-uppers are ready to go back on the market. Watch how our sound-engineered drywall is used in this remodel job.

Supress Distributor Profile: West End Material Supply

Rancho Cucamonga, CA

From Santa Clarita to San Diego, Barstow to Brawley and all points along the way West End Material Supply provides service and competitive pricing customers require and deserve. West End Material Supply first opened their doors in 1990.

Willie Christmas, Purchasing Manager, was sold on Supress Sound-Engineered Drywall after her brother installed the product on his ceiling to drastically reduce impact noise from the neighbor's new hardwood floors. "The product made an immediate difference," states Willie. Why has West End Material Supply been selling Supress Products for years now? As Willie says, "If I believe in a product, I want to sell it."

Contact your Supress sales associate today! (800) 456-4061 or www.supressproducts.com